Pressure on the heart

CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF

After eating I was troubled with a gas forming on my stomach, which would cause such a pressure on my heart that I would have to get up and walk around to keep from fainting away. The pressure on my heart was such that I would have sharp pains that were hard to bear. I suffered and was getting worse until I saw Ripans Tabules advertised. As I had tried several kinds of dyspepsia cures I hesitated about trying any other. But the price of the Tabules being so reasonable I made my mind up to try them, so when having one of my bad spells after eating I took two Tabules. The effect was marvelous. As soon as the Tabule had dissolved I began to belch wind, and in a very short time my faintness and pains disappeared. When I feel bad from eating anything that is hard to digest I now take a tabule and the trouble is over. As the result of my recommendation several of my friends are now using the Tabules.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

It has been announced a thousand times that the drawing that commences times that the drawing that commences tomorrow will be absolutely honest. No missake about it. Suppose Dennis Flynn or some other prominent Oklahoman should draw number one.

When the Country club was launched, a lot of the members loaded themselves on with a Scotch plaid bag, a half dozen clubs, more or less, a knickerbooker suit. fancy stockings and shoes, red panis and blue conts, striped caps, so that the prairies, club house and golf links were brilliant with colors. Now a lot of these same fellows catch a car on the run, with three or four balls in their pockets, three or four clubs in their hands, and when they reach the grounds throw their coat down in one place, cap and collar in another-like they used to do to be first In the swimming-hole-spit on their hands and yell four!

This is said to be the time of year for divorces, the time when the man of the house assumes a lordly, dictatorial air and the wife, poor thing, she is abused ad crushed-and the kids, well, it were better for them that they had a millstone about their necks and cast into the # Arkansaw just below the dam-site, wher there is water.

Now that larger, new poles have been placed on Main and Douglas, they ought to be painted and not a sign of any kind or description be allowed naited or pasted

I would take down that cross-roads sign at the Country club grounds, "No shooting on these promises unless you are a member." It spalls the landscape of-fects. It would have been smoother to have addressed a postal card to the half-dozen peachers, "to keep off the grass." I wonder if that sign means also that peo ple not members, or invited, are not expected to enter the club rooms.
